

STUDENTS AS MAKERS

Teach writing as part of an exciting pilot program

The Central California Writing Project (CCWP)

invites classroom, after school, ROP and other interested teachers to join a collaboration among the National Writing Project, the MacArthur Foundation, and MAKE Magazine (producers of the Maker Faire)

Where: Watsonville Public Library, Upstairs Meeting Room

Time: 4pm – 6 pm, Wednesday, October 26

More information: Use project-based learning, collaborative design, digital storytelling, podcasting, and other innovative approaches to the teaching of writing as part of this exciting pilot.

Contact: Fred Mindlin, 831-818-4475
or fmindlin@gmail.com

Register on the web
at ccwritingproject.org